

We feature stories for North Star Scouts. These stories reflect the growing maturity of our North Star Scouts and interest them in adventures such as space exploration. These stories are designed to entertain our older Scouts while giving them information at the same time.

We encourage parents to read these stories with their children to discuss their meaning.