

If your children are members of a newly formed unit, there is a possibility that they will be initially placed in a Mixed-Age Unit, in which case the answer would be yes.

If your children are in separate teams, when appropriate, we encourage the interaction of the North Star and Rising Star teams.

Because Adventure Scouts USA is a family oriented organization, we always support activities and programs that encourage all ages to participate together.